

New theme, and nothing gets jumped over tonight. The hurdles stay in the bag until the landing is quiet on the spot.

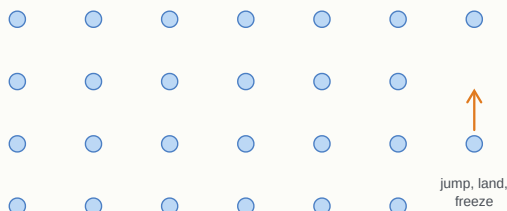

ON THE GROUND

- 4 corner cones
- 25 discs, one per boy
- Hands free. Hurdles stay in the bag

Set it up before the first group arrives and leave it for all three.

No lanes, a disc each an arm's length apart, and nobody moves off his own disc

No lanes tonight, a disc for every boy and nothing to jump over

0 to 2 Wake up game: silent bunny hops

- Two feet together, hopping anywhere inside the grid. Landings must be silent.
- Walk about with your back turned and listen. Any boy you hear stands out for ten seconds.
- Two minutes. Tell them you are listening, not looking.

2 to 8 Movement: jump and land on the spot

- A disc each, and nothing to jump over. Two feet to two feet, straight up and straight down.
- 1. "Bend, swing your arms, jump."
- 2. "Land on the front of your feet, then let your heels down."
- 3. "Bend your knees as you land and keep them apart."
- 4. "Freeze. Two seconds. No noise."
- Ten jumps, then ten more with you walking round listening.

8 to 13 Body shape: the landing

- The same shape, held. Jump, land, and freeze in it.
- Walk round and nudge a shoulder gently. If he wobbles, he was not really holding it.
- Ten of them. Noise and knees falling in are the whole theme, so say both out loud every time.

13 to 17 Challenge game: the quietest group

- Split them into three groups of eight. One group jumps, the other two turn their backs and listen.
- Ten jumps together. The listeners say how many they heard.
- Three rounds so every group jumps once. The listeners are strict, which is the point.

Coach one thing: If you can hear him land, he is landing badly.

- Straight legs on landing. He must bend to be quiet, so quiet does the coaching for you.
- Knees falling in. Same fault as the sit and the big step.

Lashing rain. No change. Nothing tonight goes on the ground and nobody jumps over anything.
